Probe Gets 'Fifth' Plea By Witness

Ex-Convict Refuses To Answer Questions In Juke Box Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Frank Cammarata, an old-time Michigan hoodlum, refused to tell the Senate Rackets Committee today whether he knew anything about underworld infiltration of the Detroit juke box business.

The Sicilian-born ex-convict, mumbling his Fifth Amendment plea with a heavy accent, claimed the answer might incriminate him. He said "incriminal" instead of incriminate.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy accused Cammarata of putting on an act by pretending he could barely speak English and was unable to afford an attorney.

Been Here Since 1922

Kennedy said the witness had been in this country at least since 1922 and showed little language difficulty in talking with the committee staff before the hearing. He also noted that Cammarata had bought a new house and car in recent years.

Cammarata was called for questioning in a brief preview hearing of what will become a long-playing investigation of the juke box industry next month.

Joseph Blumenthal, a Youngstown, Ohio, Teamsters official, also was scheduled as a witness today but failed to appear because of a mixup in arrangements.

Shortage Of Senators

The committee originally planned to begin full scale hearings today but a shortage of senators forced postponement of the investigation except for some preliminary quizzing.

Kennedy said the committee has heard that Teamster officials once tried to get a pardon for Cammarata.

The committee Wednesday wound up a two-day investigation which produced a rash of conflicting statements between Chicago contractors and officials of the Sheet Metal Workers Union.

The contractors claimed they were forced to make payoffs ranging from $150 to $27,000 in order to operate in the Chicago area. This was flatly denied by union officials who accused the business of spreading "unmitigated lies."

Army Speeds Up Launching Area Activity

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Visibly increased activity in the launching area of a modified Jupiter rocket indicated today that the Army was preparing to fire its first space probe soon.

Workers could be observed moving about the area, upon which attention has centered since Tuesday when the Jupiter was allowed to stand free of its service tower for some time.

The rollback of the tower was one indication that pre-launch checks of the missile were under way.

Official sources here were silent as to launch plans.

In Washington 10 days ago, however, The Associated Press reported that the Army planned to try a Juno II space launch—a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile topped by 15 smaller rockets clustered in three stages during a week's period starting Dec. 6.

Army and Defense Department officials have announced that in its forthcoming attempt the Army will aim for the moon in the almost certain knowledge that it will miss that small target.

The hope is to send a small instrumented probe out past the moon into an orbit around the sun.

Big Four To Meet

LONDON (UPI) — Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd announced today the Western Big Four foreign ministers will meet in Paris in about 10 days to discuss the problem of Germany and Berlin.

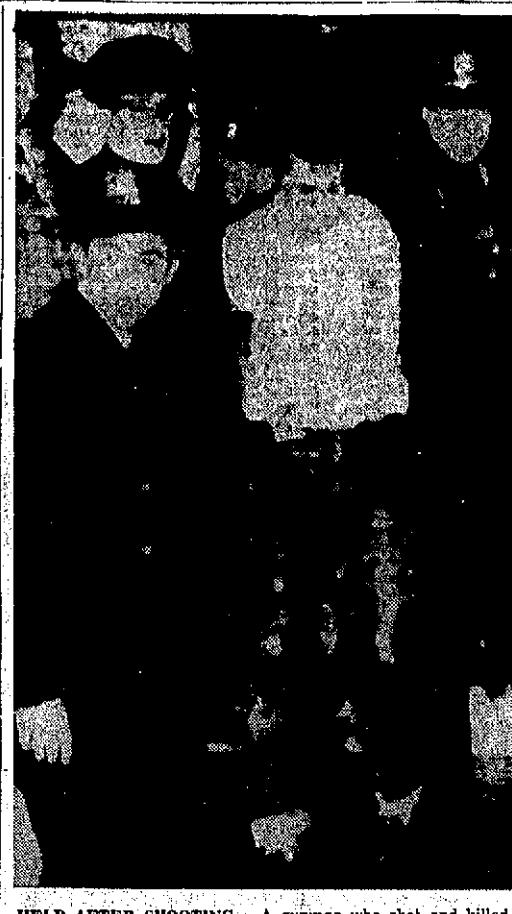

Churchill's New Statue Hit By Critics As 'Gorilla-like'

LONDON (UPI) — Critics assailed a new statue of Sir Winston Churchill today as gorilla-like caricature. They said it looks like hasn't been seen since his 80th birthday portrait that some people said made him look like a turtle.

The new controversy over an artist's portrayal of Britain's great leader centered in a $14,000 statue which has not yet been unveiled.

It was commissioned by Churchill's constituents in the Woodford district which he represents in Parliament, but critics doubted it would be installed as a monument to the former prime minister.

UMW Wins Wage Boost, Non-Union Soft Coal Boycott

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United Mine Workers and the operators association employing the own entire output of coal and are not engaged in the commercial field, the protective wage clause is not included in the contract as executed by them," Lewis said.

The UMW president said the handling of non-union produced coal by commercial firms.

The new contract was announced Wednesday by UMW President John L. Lewis and Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn. In his separate statement, Fox said the operators agreed to the provision regarding non-union coal only under "extreme union pressure."

Basic Wage $24.25.

Under the wage provisions of the new agreement, miners will receive a pay boost of $1.20 a day on Jan. 1 and another 80 cents April 1. Underground workers will receive an increase of 26 cents an hour while surface employees will get 29 cents more to compensate for their shorter workday. The new basic wage will be $24.25 a day.

Runs For Year

The agreement accepted by BCOA probably also will be signed by members of the Southern Coal Producers Assn. which produces about a third of the nation's soft coal. The new contract runs for a year and may be extended.

The dead were identified as Capt. W. A. Thorn of Loreley, Md., a native of Philadelphia, and Capt. E. H. Sieier.

Both were attached to the office of chief of naval operations and had been stationed in the Pentagon's anti-submarine warfare readiness section.

Lewis' insistence on the ban on handling of non-union coal by BCOA members reflected his concern over the growing amount of non-union produced coal, which is now estimated to make up 20 per cent of the nation's production.

Safeguard Working Conditions

Lewis said the "protective wage clause" was necessary to safeguard union working conditions. Non-union coal can be sold at cut-rate prices because the producers do not pay the 40-cent a ton royalty into the UMW Health and Welfare Fund as union operators do.

The UMW signed a separate contract with the so-called captive mine operators. These are operated by industrial firms, such as steel companies, which consume the entire output of the pits.

Mishap To Atom Weaponed Plane Could Start War

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union claimed today that an accident to a nuclear-weaponed U.S. plane — such as took place last week at Lake Charles, La. — could one day accidentally touch off World War III.

An Air Force B-47 medium jet bomber caught fire on the flight line at Chennault Air Force Base Nov. 26 while carrying a nuclear weapon. The fire did not set off the weapon. The U.S. government has said repeatedly there is no possibility of an atomic or hydrogen bomb being exploded accidentally.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, said Soviet Prime Minister Nikita Khrushchev has emphasized that "as a result of such flights millions of people could perish and a war could quite accidentally start."

Boost Asked In Minimum Wage Setup

Organized Labor, Allies Join In Drive To Extend Coverage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Organized labor and its allies launched a major drive today to obtain an increase in the federal minimum wage and extend it to include millions of workers not now covered.

New demands for Congress to revamp the Fair Labor Standards Act were expected to result from a two-day conference marking the 20th anniversary of the minimum wage law.

The AFL-CIO and the National Consumers League, joint sponsors of the meeting, lined up such new deal headliners as former Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and economist Leon Keyserling to address their conference.

The Labor Federation was on record in favor of a 25-cent boost in the minimum to $1.25 and extension of coverage to nearly 10 million additional wage and salary workers.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, scheduled to speak today did not commit himself on a higher minimum or broader coverage in his prepared remarks.

Mitchell said he would ask Congress to amend the act to authorize him to sue an employer to recover back wages for an underpaid worker without the worker's written permission as now required.

He said many workers are reluctant to give their consent even though they have been paid wages below the legal minimum.

"Any man (who) cheats his employee will not be expected in kind quickly upon being dragged into court by one of them," Mitchell said.

Firemen Control

More Than Half Of 37-Mile Perimeter

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) —

A huge brush fire that spread across the hills behind this famed beach colony appeared to be burning itself out today after three days.

Firemen were in control of more than half of its 37-mile perimeter.

They had hopes of completely subduing the blaze some time today or Friday.

Pockets of the flame in the deep canyons still offered fierce resistance, however. Officials said that rising winds could set the whole front ablaze again.

In its eight-mile rush across the hills to the seashore, the fire charred 18,000 acres, destroyed 20 homes and left scenes like these:

A housewife, crying in a little cement-block laundry house next to a chimney and rubble that once was a refrigerator, a stove and bedsprings—all that's left of her home.

Silence, like that of deserted battlefields, chimneys standing like tombstones, marking where big homes once stood. Children's toys, flame-twisted, their paint blistered.

Soviet economic pressure has been brought against Finland since Fagerholm left the Communist out of his government, although they had become the largest parliamentary bloc in Parliament.

Soviet Union is reported very close to shooting for the moon, a scientist writes in the magazine Space Journal.

A Soviet scientist way back in February 1957 outlined just such a plan, calling it "cosmic boomerang," says Ronald C. Wakeford, director of research of the National Research and Development Corp., Atlanta, Ga.

Immobilizing Gas Revealed By Ordnance

NEW YORK (UPI)—Army researchers are working on a non-lethal immobilizing gas that could rob an enemy army of the will to fight, an ordnance official has disclosed.

Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, deputy chief of Army Ordnance, told members of the American Ordnance Association Wednesday that the gas has proved effective on a laboratory cat. He showed films in which the cat made no response to a mouse until the mouse touched the cat. Then the cat leaped several feet off the floor in terror.

"I think you will agree with me that this gas obviously possesses great possibilities," he said. "We are still a long way from achieving anything like this, and that is why I have listed this item under things to be done."

"It would be nice to be able to fight at least part of a war without killing or wounding anyone or without property damage. This might be achieved by the use of an aerosol which would be breathed by enemy troops and would temporarily diminish their will to fight and resist or possibly just make them sleepy, but leave no permanent adverse effects."

High Temperature

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The temperature reached 89 degrees here Wednesday, making it the hottest Dec. 3 in 80 years. Nearby San Gabriel, with a high of 96, was the warmest spot in the nation. Long Beach had 95. The previous record for Dec. 3 in Los Angeles was 88 in 1878.

Copter Crash Fatal To One; Nine Injured

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Survivors of a Navy helicopter crash that took one life and injured nine other persons told today of a harrowing four-hour wait for rescue from the chill waters of the Potomac River.

Coast Guard and Washington harbor police rescued the passengers from the fog-shrouded river Wednesday night, and at first it was thought all had been saved.

But early today harbor police found the body of one man floating near the marsh-like crash scene two miles south of here.

He was identified from papers as M. A. Thralls, 48, a civilian employee of the Fairchild Camera Co., Syosset, N. Y.

The papers indicated he lived at Convent Road and Fourth Place, Syosset, N. Y.

The nine men rescued were six Marines and sailors and three civilians.

The helicopter, a Sikorsky HRS, was on a routine turnaround flight to Anacostia Naval Air Station here from Patuxent Naval Air Station about 60 miles away in southern Maryland.

One of the civilian survivors, Clarence Chick, 28, of Lexington Park, Md., said the helicopter "was flying along when all of a sudden water rushed in and metal started flying." He said he found himself hanging upside down by his seat safety belt.

Another passenger, Navy aviation machinist's mate Clayton Akers, 26, of Pulaski, Va., said he guessed the plane hit a sandbar. Akers, who suffered minor cuts and bruises and exposure, said some of the passengers and crew stayed in the overturned helicopter and some clung to it in the water.

The accident happened within hailing distance of shore. But the men's plight went unnoticed until residents of a large nearby apartment in South Alexandria, Va., finally heard their cries and alerted harbor police who sped to the rescue.

Russia Reported

The Soviets are pushing ahead in guided missiles, and surely have rockets capable of reaching the moon, Wakeford notes.

Man Unconscious

Five Years Dies

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—It was five years ago last June that Arden A. Wynn was taken unconscious from the scene of an auto accident. He died Wednesday, at the age of 32. Doctors said he had been unconscious the entire time.

PHOENIX Ariz. (UPI)—Police fabulous Riviera Hotel on Las Vegas' strip, was found in his room investigating the throat-cutting that took one life and injured nine other persons told today of a harrowing four-hour wait for rescue from the chill waters of the Potomac River.

The man being sought was not, and his throat also cut, was identified but it was learned he was covered 75 yards away in a den. Greenbaum signed the complaint which led to the man's arrest.

The man, a former employee of Ray, who notified police and then collapsed from shock.

The first road league in Maryland—and possibly the first in the United States—was formed at Darlington in 1887. It was followed by road leagues in Bel Air and Churchville, both organized in the fall of 1894.

These groups were the spark plugs of the good roads movement of the early years of this century. Their activities led directly to the creation of the State Roads Commission in 1908 and to the road-building programs of today," McElldin said.

But Woolsey's example was not generally followed in Maryland, and the full burden of road construction and maintenance soon fell upon the taxpayer.

Gov. McElldin today recalled this unfamiliar fact about early Maryland road building as he joined in ceremonies marking completion of project on Mountain Road (Maryland 182) near here.

The improvements to Mountain Road were originally scheduled in the third phase of a 12-year program, for construction between 1952 and 1955. But the State Roads Commission later advanced the section in its planning.

McElldin said the improvements to the road have safety as the main consideration. "We in Maryland are determined that eventually the pattern of a road will be no excuse for an automobile accident," he said.

The governor used the story of Woolsey's bequest to illustrate the early interest of Harford County residents in good roads.

"Harford County was one of the first local sub-divisions in the country to take positive action to get the farmer out of the mud," he said.

"This was accomplished by the creation of numerous local 'citizens' committees known as 'road leagues' to build and maintain hard-surface roads. They were financed by road taxes and also by

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of

School And Work

A FEW MILLION perspiring U.S. kids, laboring over their homework to-night can testify that Sputnik was no lucky break for them. No matter what the common opinion is, the Russian moon frightened many a school system and individual teacher into a new program of lightening down. We are going through the throes of re-examining our educational system. And by coincidence our rival, Russia, is doing the same thing. A year ago, in the wake of the Soviet success with rockets, many of us jumped to the conclusion that her schools were a model for us to follow. But recent events make it appear that there is more to the story than anything that simple.

KHRUSHCHEV has announced to the Russians that he is putting into effect a radical educational change. Where we pictured the future Russia as a nation of engineers, the trend is just the opposite. The majority of Soviet children will leave school and start work at 14 or 15. Most of them are assured the equivalent of a high school education through evening and correspondence courses. But they'll take them while holding down full-time jobs. A select group, estimated at from 20 to 30 per cent, will move from secondary schools into college as in the past. But even they will handle full-time jobs during the first two or three years. There is a glint of humor in the situation. Khrushchev's complaints sounded a familiar theme involving competing parents. He growled that they have been using their influence to get their children into the universities. Sometimes the children stalled along a year or two doing nothing while their elders battled to get them college berths.

THE REASON for the abrupt educational change was given as the need to increase the labor force during Russia's tremendous growth efforts. But one of Khrushchev's remarks would make it appear that the present system was encouraging the growth of a caste system. He pointed out that in the competition for college, only 30 to 40 per cent of the ones who got in were from the peasant and worker classes. And he added growls about the parents who were using common jobs as bogeymen. They threatened their children that they'd "go into the factory as common laborers" when the children didn't get good grades in elementary school. It is pretty obvious that there isn't anything in the new Russian school system for us to ape. The only exception is the implied warning that education systems are so important to a nation that we are not doing wrong when we keep a close eye on our own and challenge, challenge, challenge.

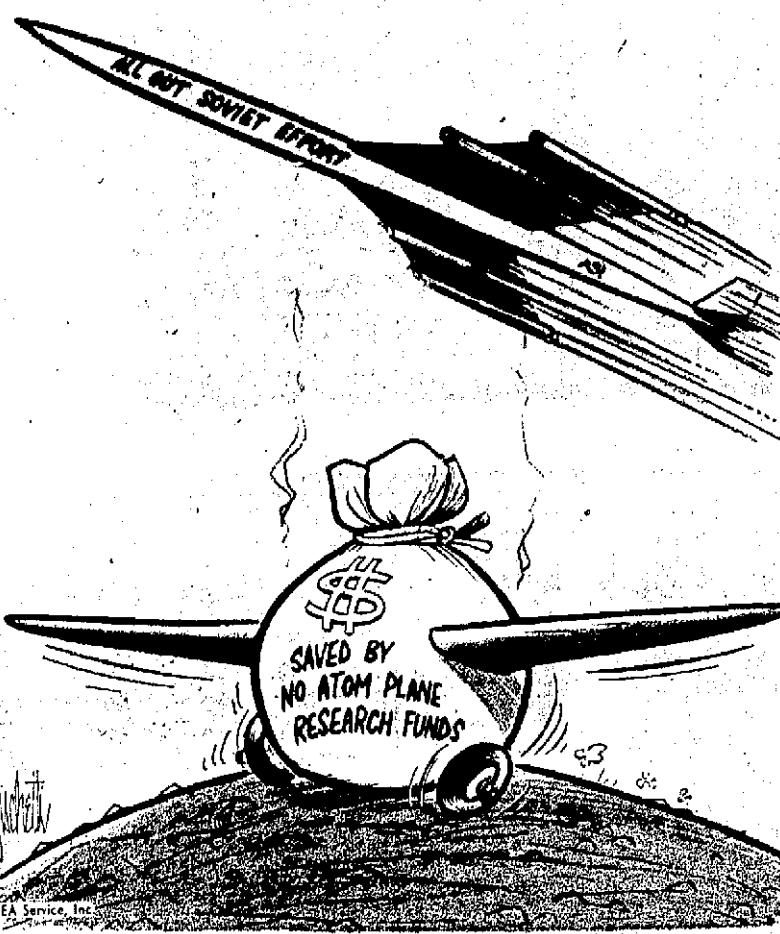

To Land The Punch

THERE IS A widespread belief in this country that poliomyelitis has been knocked out by the Salk vaccine. This is a dangerous misconception. The longer it persists, the more dangerous it will become. With regard to polio, society is rather like a boxer who has knockout power in his left, but can't manage to land a good, solid blow. The Salk vaccine is capable of beating down the crippler, polio, but it cannot land the knockout until a much greater percentage of the population has been inoculated. The full series of three Salk shots is thought to be 90 per cent effective against paralyzing polio. The protection drops to about 75 per cent for those who have received two shots; one shot is regarded as helpful, but not to any great extent. This must be borne in mind when considering the crucial fact that 60 per cent in the nation's susceptible under-40 age group have had only one shot, or none. What can happen? Detroit had polio epidemic this year—some 800 cases. Chicago had an epidemic in 1957. There could be other epidemics next year. Until the knockout blow of virtually total inoculation among the under-40 group has been delivered, polio will continue to be a tough and dangerous adversary.

Mixed Blessing

MAN IN ENGLAND, deaf for eight years, reports that his hearing returned when "something went click" as one of the more virulent rock-n-roll shouters was blaring on the radio. Something like this happens in a good many homes in this country. When the rock-n-roll frenzy starts, something goes "click." In this case it's the "off" switch. And normal hearing returns.

Demo Senate Whip Ignores Vital States

WASHINGTON—Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson's right-hand man, whip Mike Mansfield of Montana, says he sees "no reason" to broaden the two Senate Democratic committees—Policy and Steering—which form and direct the operations of the majority. Yet these committees now comprise the narrowest possible base of national Democratic party strength in three major respects.

One is geographical. Both committees are heavily weighted with men from the South, Southwest and border states. Their two Westerners are both from the relatively static and remote state of Montana. Similarly, their two Easterners are from small Rhode Island and scarcely larger Delaware.

THE SECOND respect is populational. More than 26 million Americans voted Democratic on November 4. It would be hard to figure out how the Democratic Policy and Steering Senators could be chosen so they would represent a smaller fraction of those voters.

Of the 12 most populous states in the Union, only Texas, with Johnson and Missouri with Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr., can claim such places. And Hennings is often ill and, relatively inactive.

In contrast, six places have been given to five of the least

Stassen's Hat In Ring Recalls Fray Of '52

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Harold Stassen offered the citizenry a fleeting flashback to the 1952 campaign on the occasion of his statement he might run for president in 1960 if the move would help block Vice President Nixon.

The resilient Stassen, who treats his political defeats as if they were credentials of success, said he's considering a course like the one he followed at the 1952 GOP convention, when he released to General Eisenhower delegates pledged to him.

This condenses the story of Stassen in 1952 into a very small capsule. Enlarging it may put his present moves in a little sharper light.

Along in mid-1951, Stassen was quoted as favoring Mr. Eisenhower's nomination. Late in September that year he denied any statement to that effect. Still later he was again reported leaning the general's way. And on November 29 he called on the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, then an avowed candidate, to join him in drafting Ike.

BY DECEMBER, though, a national Stassen headquarters already was buzzing in Washington. Leaders claimed support in 17 states. Yet Stassen hinted anew that he might back Mr. Eisenhower if he got the right answers to questions he would put.

On December 12 he had a talk with the general in Paris, where he was serving as NATO chief. Upon his return Stassen declined to disclose what he had learned.

But on December 27 he formally announced his candidacy for 1952, and told a Washington press conference his conversation with Ike had a "direct bearing" on his decision.

Eisenhower leaders read in this an intent to apply the general would not be a candidate. Then Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge declared he could report "authoritatively" that nothing said at the Eisenhower-Stassen meeting justified any such conclusion.

Stassen's friends said his 1952 entry was really a move to block Taft's nomination. In a much earlier talk with a prominent Ohio backer, Stassen was said to

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—The woods are full (now, are, anyway) of men of all ages who, when introduced, find it grimly warm to say: "I was an old newspaperman myself."

Some senators, at least one president and heaven knows how many corporation executives, can use this gambit in perfect truth. They were. And now by this same device I have met a young newspaperman himself, and he combines the wily arts of a one-armed paper-hanger and a cat on a hot tin roof (pre-Williams variety).

Only recently Frank Sinatra was wooling a song about a man so busy "it took 30 hours to make him a day." I think Kenneth Silver must need 37 of them.

NOW, JUST TO fire the imaginations of momentarily idle young reporters, let me say that as of October, 1956, Kenneth was a reporter on The New York Times and was momentarily idle. He was between assignments with perhaps an hour of free time ahead of him: He used it to think.

He also used it to tot up his fortune. It didn't take long. He had $200 to implement his future.

Sitting there, he said: "I ought to be able to party this, but not as a newspaperman."

He quit, hired a tiny office and started a servicing business. He achieved some clients. If they needed help of any kind that winter, he even broke even once or twice and in April, 1957, reading his old paper, he saw an ad for models and it occurred to him that modeling was a growing profession.

HE TOOK time out to survey the modeling field. He did a re-search job. What kind of people used models, how much did they pay them, where did they work? He found out. And put in an ad of his own, this time advertising Kenneth Models, an agency for same.

Many of the girls who came in as hopeful aspirants in all phases of modeling from fashions to toothpaste ads needed, sadly, a touch of reality. They were not well-groomed, they lacked poise, they had utterly nothing but a wish to be models.

This would have discouraged lesser men—not Kenneth. He added the Institute of Charm to Kenneth Models. Now when the Plain Janes came in he had them take a course in personal improvement, appearance, poise and personality.

Those who survived that and turned from wrecks into birds of paradise moved over to Kenneth Models and went out to fashion houses, the garment center and ad agencies. He charged a fee for brightening them up and another fee for getting them jobs.

MEANWHILE, Services Unlimited, in its own offices, was finding office help, of temporary nature, for nine gigantic corporations.

"How did you know what to teach in your charm school?" I asked him.

"I learned," he said. "I took courses myself at Helena Rubinstein and Elizabeth Arden. Mostly, I learned what to tell them they needed and they surely needed it."

With his models and clerks doing handsomely on their own, in August, 1958, he started Quicksilver, for really temporary office help. You know, three days, two weeks, fill-in, that kind of job.

Then, he thought, there are ramifications of all this beyond conjecture. He studied all employment markets and started a fourth agency encompassing anything from office help to floor waxers. He even hired young girls with sandwich boards reading: "My Mother Works For Services Unlimited." How About You?"

WOMEN looking for jobs reported in droves. Then, working one Saturday to catch up with this breathless expansion, he noticed a fellow waxing the office floor.

"Whose outfit is this?" Kenneth asked.

"Mine," said the man. "You mean if you are here and someone tries to reach you they can't because you are not at home?" demanded Kenneth. "Inefficient."

So he made the waxer a part-time in a cleaning service started just that instant, pointed out that now the waxer had a central place to receive appointment calls and they now employ eight other waxers because business has mushroomed.

"HOW WELL is it all going?" "I did $120,000 gross the first year," he said. "It's better this year." We have five things going, with the waxers included, and all are busy. I've added a messenger service and TV commercial producing. I've centralized my offices now in one place and have a decent office of my own to receive clients. I think we will do $250,000 this year."

"Beltier" than being a reporter, I think."

"Yes," said Kenneth. "Do you know of another service I can start?"

Music (Plus Coin) Has Charms

WASHINGTON—The U. S. Senate, with luck, may discover soon the reason why hoodlums love music.

In most American cities, with some notable exceptions, the greasy thumbs, the cherry noses and the successors to old Scarface, himself, are in charge of the juke-box business. Ten cents a tune they charge (or three for a quarter), with a split to the owner of the beer joint.

This business, with slot machines, pin balls and sometimes chewing gum and cigarettes on the side, takes in a fabulous amount of money. Sen. John McClellan, chairman of the rackets investigating committee, claims it runs into the billions per year.

THE SENATOR wants to know how much of the money-in-the-slot business is controlled by gangsters and, in particular, where certain segments of the Teamsters' Union fit in. Fair enough, but there's one other thing I wish I had to do.

That's write a law forcing the proprietors of juke boxes to include in each machine one record without grooves for those who like to absorb their beer in silence. Ten cents for three minutes of peace sounds like a high price, but there are old-fashioned ones who would pay it, if only they had the chance.

IT ISN'T three minutes any more, incidentally. The powers that be in the business of the big boxes with the bubble lights and the mighty loud-speakers have his consent, but stoutly refused to pull out of the race even at that late hour.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Throw away that mistletoe. Tear down the trees.

We're not having an office Christmas party this year. How about your firm?

It appears that the custom of having office Christmas parties is going the way of Mah Jongg and high-button shoes.

This will delight any number of overly possessive wives and professional killjoys who for years have denounced the office Christmas party as a threat to the security of the family and the safety of the Republic.

Not that we intend to quit going to office Christmas parties ourselves.

Frankly, we started going to office Christmas parties when we first came to the big city two decades ago because we had heard they were Bacchanalian orgies at which hookers made music by beating wine bottles together while stenographers danced around the water cooler with vine leaves in their hair.

But we have yet to see a Christmas party like that, although we haven't altogether given up hope.

The office Christmas parties we have gone to—maybe we're just unlucky—have all been more innocent than evil.

It is true that at some parties we have seen a sedate, middle-aged swivel chair jockey, swept by the lurid passion of an unbridled hour, get a little lipstick on his cheekbone.

But most Christmas parties I have attended have been only slightly wilder than the average big wedding celebration or old-fashioned wake. Some have been milder than wakes.

Pupil Gets Blame For Bomb Scare

PT. PLEASANT, W. Va. (UPI)—Police said today they suspected that a student was responsible for a "bomb scare" Wednesday at Pt. Pleasant High School.

The school building was evacuated following an anonymous telephone call to police that a bomb was planted there. A thorough search was conducted, but there was no trace of any bomb.

However, authorities did find escaping gas from three gas jets which had been turned on in the physics lab. They theorized the jets might have been turned on about the time they arrived by the perpetrator of the hoax.

The call was received by a State Police radio operator and it was traced to a pay booth about a block and a half from the school. The operator said the caller's voice sounded like that of a boy or a young man.

UNSAFE SCHOOLS—Dr. William Carr Jr., executive secretary of the National Education Association, says there are a large number of unsafe schools in the nation. He made the statement in view of the disastrous Chicago parochial school fire which took the lives of 87 children and three Roman Catholic nuns.

State Reports Farm Interest In Irrigation

Water Use Made Available During Drought Periods

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland farmers who invested in irrigation systems during or after the 1957 drought found little use for them in last summer's relatively wet growing season.

But they still came in handy for truck crops and as an insurance of having water so that crops could be more properly fertilized, agricultural extension officials reported today.

Albert V. Krelwatch, extension engineer, said replies from 11 county agents answering a statewide survey showed that irrigation systems were used, but on a restricted basis, during the past growing season.

Application Drop

Where 8,788 acres were watered during the drought year in these counties, only 1,669 acres required water this past year, and only 1 to 2 applications were needed compared to 4 to 7 during the drought.

Most of these were truck farms on the Eastern Shore, with heaviest use in Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester counties.

"This does indicate that even in a year of weather as nice as it was, 18 per cent of the acreage still needed some water to produce better crops," Krelwatch said.

The rain, even in a heavy year, was not always available at times it was needed during the growing period, he explained.

Trend Levels Off

Maryland's rainfall was above normal for most of the summer, and July was among the wettest on record. The summer rains precluded use of much irrigation for tobacco, corn and other field crops and a trend which had been underway in Southern Maryland for a couple of years leveled off.

But officials concerned with irrigation expect it to bounce back up again with even a normal year of rainfall.

Rob Sidner, work unit conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Annapolis, said construction of farm ponds in that area by farmers who became convinced of their need during the 1957 drought, is continuing despite the wet year. Such multi-purpose ponds can provide water for stock and tobacco beds as well as irrigation for fields, he said.

Expect Wider Use

"Irrigation has proved itself," he said, "and we expect to see wider use of it."

Krelwatch reports that one Prince Georges' County farmer who found little use for his irrigation system on tobacco used it to very good advantage on a corn crop, which he could fertilize heavily without having to worry about whether there would be enough rain.

Oden Turner, of the Tobacco Growers Assn. at Upper Marlboro, Md. says this insurance factor is one of the major benefits of irrigation. Turner, who also deals in farm equipment, says his firm sold only one system this past year but he looks for another upswing next year.

Similarly optimistic is Francis Baldwin, an Annapolis farm equipment dealer. He said he sold only one system last summer but expects the increase in use of irrigation in Anne Arundel County to continue with a return to more normal weather.

Company To Hold Formal Opening

The Potomac Edison Company will hold the grand opening of its $375,000 Service Center here today and tomorrow.

Scientists Discover Needles Force Core Of Skin Into Muscles And Veins

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two medical scientists were only curious at first. They wondered what happened to the skin when a doctor pushes a needle into it. When they found out, their curiosity turned into worry.

In a majority of such needle punctures, they discovered, the pores of the skin are not merely pushed aside as the needle goes through. The needle cuts out a core of skin a little smaller than the diameter of its open end.

And this core is likely to be injected into muscle, vein, or the tissue under the skin (depending on where the doctor is aiming the needle tip) along with whatever medication is in the syringe. The oretically at least that is not so, having been very curious good.

But the scientists, Drs. Thomas Gibson and Walter Norris, had to acknowledge that thousands of thorough investigation.

needles are pushed into thousands of people by thousands of doctors every day, and there has been no reported trouble from all these skin tissue, they said; and there cores of skin transplanted into cores to lodge in tiny veins of the body, they said. Gibson and Norris reported trouble from all these skin tissue, they said; and there should not "take" and grow. If smallest upward.

With more widespread awareness, however, the very high incidence of detached portions of skin by the medication and later getting transplanted deeper into perhaps by blood clot. Either cores of skin got into the needles

(the body) may be correlated with would tend to prevent a take.

That was their purpose — to spread awareness among doctors,

there is the possibility of the skin

carefully before pushing a needle

they had found and by no skin cysts. Indeed, in experiments with laboratory rats, they've produced cysts by injecting cores of the rats' own skin.

So far as medical literature reveals, theirs was the first in cases where injections are into the veins, it is at least theoretically possible for the skin cores to lodge in tiny veins of the body, they said. Gibson and Norris reported trouble from all these skin tissue, they said; and there should not "take" and grow. If smallest upward.

With more widespread awareness, however, the very high incidence of detached portions of skin by the medication and later

getting transplanted deeper into perhaps by blood clot. Either cores of skin got into the needles

(the body) may be correlated with would tend to prevent a take.

This happened in 65 per cent of all punctures.

The least meaning their investigation has, they said, is that doctors should disinfect the skin

carefully before pushing a needle

they had found and by no skin cysts. Indeed, in experiments carried into deeper layers. Skin cysts which are not uncommon as preparation before injection is often necessary, they said, and this could be the cause of abscesses under the skin and in muscles.

Third Death Noted
In West Virginia
Hunting Season

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The toll for West Virginia's six-day deer season apparently has risen to three with the death in Doddridge County of a prominent business man.

Samuel William Stalnaker, about 60, died Wednesday afternoon of a gunshot wound near West Union. Police said it is believed Stalnaker's rifle discharged accidentally when he got back into his car after firing at a deer.

The other victims since the opening of deer season Monday were Curtis Millhouse, 19, of McMechen, Marshall County, and Robert Stark, Parkersburg.

Fatal Heart Attack

Millhouse was shot through the chest Tuesday while hunting near Sistersville and Stark died of an apparent heart attack near Williamson, Wood County, Monday.

The State Conservation Commission said the estimated kill for the first two days of the deer season was 11,383. The hunter's choice season in 21 of 39 counties closed Wednesday. Only buck deer may be bagged for the remaining three days of the season.

The commission said it had also learned that one of four deer taken in the first two days of the season in Jefferson County was a "foreigner."

Bore Maryland Tag

When the hunter passed through a checking station, game technicians discovered that it bore a tag which had been attached by the Maryland game commission. The kill was made some eight miles inside West Virginia's borders.

Two Wood County youngsters got their bag limit early. Kenneth Owens, 11, and his brother Gary, 14, of Parkersburg both killed bucks in Tyler County.

Kenneth brought down a five-pointer Monday and Gary a two-pointer the following day. Gary got his first deer three years ago at the age of 11.

Four Area Men
Join Air Force

Four area men have enlisted in the Air Force, according to local recruiters.

Lawrence Leo McKenzie, 133 Hill Street, Frostburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKenzie Sr., enlisted for four years.

Glenn Woodrow McTaggart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alvin McTaggart; RD 1, Ridgeley; Orvin Ray Wagoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray Wagoner, Fort Ashby; and Elmer DeSales Donahoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Donahoe, RD 2, Flintstone, enlisted for four years each.

Sgt. Harold Waldrup said recruiters will be in the office, third floor of the Post Office building, daily from 9 until 5 p.m., to interview young men and women interested in Air Force careers and enlistment.

Santa Claus Letter Project Announced

Parents who wish their children to receive Christmas letters from Santa Claus, Ind., can address the letters at McIntyre's Chevrolet showroom on North Mechanic Street, from where the letters will be sent to the Indiana community.

The service will be continued until December 15.

Pineapple Supreme

This delicious Napoleon Pineapple Supreme dessert is a specialty of a hotel in Chicago. Here's the recipe, straight from the hotel's chef.

With a wire whip, beat two large scoops of ice cream until soft. Add 1 tablespoon kirsch and 1 tablespoon cognac. Carefully fold in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup whipped cream, green olives, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons grated Romano or Parmesan cheese.

3 slices canned pineapple to each.

Top with ice-cream mixture. Serve immediately.

Onion-Crumb On Vegetables

Enjoy these delicious onion-crumb sprinkled over holiday vegetables, crisp green salads, hot soups or casserole dishes.

Stir instant minced onion, sesame seeds and bread crumbs into a little melted butter. Toast until golden brown; cool and store in an airtight container.

Family Lunch

Good recipe to keep in mind when you aren't sure who is showing up for lunch because you can bake only as many servings as needed.

Baked Spanish Eggs
Cooked Green Peas
and Celery Salad
Bread Tray
Applesauce Beverage
BAKED SPANISH EGGS

Ingredients: For each serving—3 tablespoons tomato sauce, 2 folded in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup whipped cream, green olives, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons grated Romano or Parmesan cheese.

Pour $\frac{1}{4}$ cup raspberry syrup into two large dessert dishes and add mesan cheese.

3 slices canned pineapple to each.

Top with ice-cream mixture. Serve immediately.

Method: Put the tomato sauce into a buttered individual shallow baking dish—a heat-resistant glass pie plate, that is about 6 inches in diameter and 1 inch deep is fine. Cut olives from pits in thin strips, chop and add to sauce. Break eggs over tomato sauce without breaking yolks. Sprinkle with grated cheese, making sure yolks are covered with it. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm—about 25 minutes. Serve with a little melted butter. Toast

Note: Canned meatless tomato-mushroom spaghetti sauce is fine to use in this recipe.

Get That Coffee-Time Touch

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's one of those wonderful French customs! We're talking about the "continental breakfast" of coffee and croissants—those rich, flaky rolls that are often bought at fine bakeries but may also be made at home.

Who can describe the delights of a croissant? Let's call these crescent-shaped rolls a cross between a bread and a Danish pastry. Croissants are not sweet and the French usually savor their bland but delicate flavor, their layered texture, with nothing but fine sweet butter. But how many Americans enjoy adding a bit of jam, jelly or marmalade?

Having a mid-morning "coffee" for "the girls"? Then these rolls are perfect to serve.

Croissants

Ingredients: 1/4 cup milk, 2 teaspoons sugar, 6 teaspoon salt.

TO ANY TOURIST who has visited Europe this table scene will stir longings for delightful croissants and morning coffee, the typical "continental breakfast." They're perfect to serve for the woman who has a mid-morning coffee with the girls.

2 tablespoons warm (105 to 115 degrees) water, 2 1/4 cups (about 1 1/2 cups) sifted cake flour, 1/4 cup butter or margarine.

Method: Scald milk; stir in sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into small bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add flour and work into a smooth dough. Knead dough until smooth and elastic; let rise in warm place free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 45 minutes. Place butter in a large bowl of cold water and ice cubes or chipped ice. Work butter with hands, breaking it into small pieces and squeezing each in water about 20 times or until butter is pliable and way; remove butter and wipe off excess water. Divide into three equal portions; wrap each in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator until firm. When dough has risen, punch down with fist; fold sides toward center. Turn ball smoothside up on a lightly floured surface. Roll dough into a rectangle 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Dot center third of rolled dough with one portion chilled butter pieces. Cover butter with right-hand third of dough. Fold left-hand third under butter section. With rolling pin, gently press down and seal the three open edges. Wrap dough in waxed paper and chill 30 minutes. Remove dough from refrigerator, and place on lightly floured surface with butter section near top, narrow width toward you. Turn one-quarter way around, to have open edge away from you, and roll out to original size. Repeat twice the procedure for buttering, folding, sealing and chilling, using second and third portions of butter. Each time place on floured surface, turn and roll as directed. Roll dough into a round 1/2 inch thick. Cut 12 wedges. Roll up beginning at wide end. Fasten end by brushing tip with part of a mixture of egg yolk (slightly beaten) and 1 tablespoon milk.

Place rolls on greased baking sheet with points underneath. Curve into crescents. Cover lightly with a towel and let rise in a warm place about 1 hour, or until doubled. Brush with remaining egg mixture and bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until rolls are golden brown.

Savory Cracked Wheat

Ingredients: 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion (finely chopped), 1 cup (medium-size grain) cracked bouillon cubes, 1 1/2 cups boiling water, seasoned salt, pepper.

Method: Melt butter over moderate heat in 9- or 10-inch skillet. Add cracked wheat and brown lightly, stirring often. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water; pour into cracked wheat mixture; add seasoned salt and pepper to taste. Bring to simmering. Turn into 1 1/2-quart baking dish; cover lightly and bake in slow (300 degrees) oven until wheat is cooked through and liquid is absorbed—30 to 45 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pork And Chicken Take Spotlight As Good Buys

The following guide to the 10 items as shrimp, fish sticks, and canned tuna.

In This Area

Now for a closer look at the food situation in this area:

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Early December food shoppers won't have much trouble finding a fairly good variety this weekend, and prices for a number of items will generally favor the family food budget.

Among the protein foods, pork and broiler-fryers continue to share the spotlight, with supplies ample for most demands. Smoked hams and picnics, pork loins, chops, bacon, and sausage will be plentiful, while broiler-fryers still wear very favorable price tags. Eggs of all sizes are in good supply, and cheeses and other dairy products offer excellent values.

Apples from this year's big crop—fifth greatest than average—lead the parade of fruits, while oranges and grapefruit are arriving in increasing quantities. And luscious winter pears are another good buy.

Vegetables bins will see a smaller variety as colder weather reaches many areas, but there are still good supplies available in potatoes, turnips, cabbage, snap beans, corn, eggplant, Idaho potatoes, cucumbers, spinach, cauliflower, brussel sprouts, onions, sweet potatoes, yellow and Italian squash, carrots, endive and escarole.

In fruit, top value will be locally grown apples. You'll get radishes, lettuce and celery, snap beans, tender sweet corn, cucumbers, cauliflower, onions, carrots and tomatoes.

The nation's fish markets will offer plentiful supplies of such nutritious menus, too.

At the produce section, your best buys in vegetables will be

Bids Sought On Roadway Improvement

Route 36 Work To Cover Nearly Three Miles; Due Dec. 23

One of the most treacherous stretches of roadways in Allegany County will be eliminated when a project on Route 36 between Corriganville and Barrellville is completed.

G. Bales Chaires, district engineer, said today bids will be received for 2.713 miles of new road starting at the western end of the recently completed Route 36 at Corriganville to one-third of a mile past Barrellville.

Due December 23

The State Roads Commission will open bids for the work at noon Tuesday, December 23, in Baltimore.

The project calls for grading, drainage, and surfacing of a 24-foot wide highway. Chaires noted that this initial work will be part of an overall plan that will call for a four-lane highway.

The work will entail the moving of Jennings Run. The present stretch of road is narrow and is hemmed in by the run on one side and cliffs on the other.

Chaires said there will be a steel beam bridge with a 60-foot span over the creek at one spot.

Modern Road Goal

There will be a pedestrian bridge at the intersection of Route 36 and Route 47, the Wellersburg Road, and an entrance bridge along the 2.713-mile link.

The ultimate goal of the SRC is to have a modern highway from Route 40 in the Narrows to Frostburg on Route 36.

Already completed has been the new intersection of Routes 40 and 36 in the Narrows plus over four miles of new and relocated roadway from the Narrows to a point just on the outskirts of Corriganville.

Area Native Dies In Crash With Freight

Year-Round Effort Made To Keep Schools Fire Safe

Fire-conscious parents were reminded today by Allegany County Board of Education and City Fire Department officials that a year-round effort is made to assure safety in schools.

Attention on the conditions of schools has been centered

by the tragic fire in Chicago

when 87 parochial school students and three nuns died.

Killed were Elmer W. Sutton, 46, and Elizabeth (Stalnaker) Sutton, 48, who had been residing in Athens for the past five years.

Their bodies are at the Davis Funeral Home, Clarksburg, where services will be conducted tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. Interment will be in the Stalnaker family cemetery at Flatwoods near Clarksburg.

Ohio authorities said the accident apparently happened while Mrs. Sutton was driving her husband to work at Ohio University, where he had been a technician in the School of Music.

A son of Mrs. Myrtle (Elton) Sutton, Moorefield, and the late Harry H. Sutton, he was a graduate of the West Virginia School for the Blind at Romney, where he was enrolled as the result of an accident which had impaired his vision. Mr. Sutton was also a graduate of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

His survivors also include three brothers, Air Force Lt. Ray H. Sutton, Washington; George L. Sutton, Arlington, Va., and Elton L. Sutton, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sutton was born in Flatwoods, daughter of Mrs. S. Wise (Pickett) Stalnaker, Clarksburg, and the late Mr. Stalnaker. A graduate of Salem College, Mrs. Sutton did graduate work at West Virginia University.

Mrs. Sutton was a member of the Clarksburg Art Center and had one of her paintings hung in a New York exhibit. She was also accomplished as a writer of poems, one of which was set to music and sung by a Philadelphia chorus of 200 voices two years ago.

Snow Possible For Saturday

Colder weather with a chance of snow is forecast for Allegany and Garrett counties tomorrow and Saturday, the Weather Bureau said today.

Yesterday's rain and snow, which created slushy roads, was followed last night and this morning by a heavy fog and above freezing temperatures.

The temperature moderated during the evening and the morning public received a break.

The forecast calls for partial clearing tonight. It is to be cold with the low between 25 and 32 degrees.

Tomorrow is to see some clouds and colder, with the high in the 30s. The outlook for Saturday is cloudy and cold with a chance of snow.

Highways in Allegany and Garrett counties were reported clear today, with the exception of a few slushy spots.

There was one inch of snow recorded in Cumberland in the 24 hours ending at noon today.

The club has also called a meeting for 8 p.m. Monday, December 15, at which time changes in the by-laws will be discussed.

Young Hunter Hurt In Fall

A 19-year-old hunter was seriously injured today when he fell 15 feet off a cliff near Corriganville.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Richard Kirchner, 19, of 405 Willowbrook Road. Attaches reported his condition at noon as "good."

Attaches said the youth sustained possible fractured skull and lacerations of the head.

Kirchner said he had been hunting in the Corriganville area when he slipped on wet grass and dropped approximately 15 feet off a cliff.

Workers Finish Bridge 'Hump' In Eight Hours

Workers yesterday completed where the crossing could be opened. City officials said the Cumberland Contracting Company will go in today to do the final work. This includes a final coat of blacktop, but the work will be scheduled so traffic can be maintained.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said all of those who worked on the project are to be commended for their "wonderful work" on the difficult job.

Praised for their part in the project were the Western Maryland Railway, the George F. Hazelwood Company and the C & A Gas Company, who worked as a team and had the crossing back in service at 3 p. m. yesterday. Early estimates called for a 24-hour, around-the-clock schedule.

Well manned crews, top supervision, and plenty of equipment turned up at 7 a.m. to get the hump-trimming project on the road. By early afternoon, the work was advanced to the point

State School Check Shows No Bad Spots

BALTIMORE (AP)—An annual safety check of Maryland schools has turned up no "bad spots" so far this year, according to Maryland's chief fire inspector. The investigator, John J. Meyers, said all schools built in Maryland during the last 12-15 years are "semi-fireproof" construction with inside fire escapes. The steel and concrete escapes have fire limit doors top and bottom.

Meyers was asked about the still full-time inspecting schools in all he said, "If we find anything bad we immediately get in touch with the chief fire investigator in the office of the counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore and Howard. We have received 100 per cent of the West's most noted mining schools. He said there are some land and Harford County. It is schools in remote sections of some now under way in Howard County, that still have all-frame construction but he added: "There are very few of out of the schools" periodically, away for a new board because especially where follow-up checks have been tugging the doors top and bottom. Meyers has five men working checked as often as once a month, the new board arrived, but Santa was horrified. It was a rich shade of blue.

He said the regular annual inspection cooperation.

December's Business Rated As Year's Barometer

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Just as June is the month of brides December is the month of those who read tea leaves to foretell the future of business.

And already the predictions are for better days ahead — perhaps because the days behind weren't notably too good.

The Agriculture Department is out on the limb with a forecast that everything will be better in 1959 except farm income. This limb is a bit shaky because farm income depends on many things, but a major one is weather. And even Washington isn't too confident when predicting weather.

Most corporate executives now holding forth think business will be better — particularly for their own firms.

They're counting heavily on the consumers. And the Prudential Insurance Co. of America says that consumers will spend 16 billion dollars more next year for a record 307 billion dollars.

The share that will go for consumer durables — autos, household appliances and the like — will rise from this year's 36½ billion dollars to 40 billion dollars next year and 46 billion in 1960, according to the economists of McGraw-Hill, business publication firm.

Dun & Bradstreet says all but a handful of 309 corporate executives it queried expect business to be better next year, although none predicts an out and out boom until the '60s.

F. W. Dodge Corp., which keeps a watchful eye on construction contract awards, reports that they've been setting monthly records the last six months, and that should mean plenty of activity in the months ahead.

Prudential economists spread their optimism over more territory than almost anyone else. They predict: 1. A substantial increase in employment (1½ million more jobs); 2. A rise in wages (although maybe not quite so fast a rate as in the past); and 3. Gains in corporate profits (although not much change in dividend payments).

Business will reverse its 1958 policy of living off inventories and will start adding to them again in 1959. This should add 7½ billion dollars to national output, say the insurance men. They also think business will spend more on plant and equipment, some two billion dollars more. I predict that federal government dollars, state and local spending on perhaps surer ground, they spending will rise by 3½ billion by four billion dollars.

Charities Will Distribute Yuletide Baskets To Needy

Mental Health Group Named By Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The selection of 15 persons to serve on an interim committee of the Governor's Conference on Mental Health was announced Wednesday by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

Underwood said the committee would serve as a liaison group for the Governor's Conference held earlier this year among members of the Legislature, executive departments and the public.

Members include Ray Stewart of Huntington, chairman of the Governor's Conference; President George F. Evans of the State Medical Assn., Clarksburg; Dr. Dean F. Brode, Beckley; Kanawha County Intermediate Court Judge William Thompson, Charleston; T. R. Fulton, chairman of the West Virginia University school of social work.

Mrs. Harrison Ferrell, Institute; Bishop Wilburn C. Campbell of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia, Charleston; Mayor W. H. Perry of Martinsburg; Mrs. Lillian Wiser, Huntington; Dr. Thomas Knapp, Charleston; Dr. Lewis Field, Bluefield; Dr. Eugene I. Ryan, Belle.

Edward Nadelman, Wheeling; Tommy E. Jones, Charleston; and Dr. J. T. Richardson, chairman of the Marshall College department of sociology and president of the West Virginia Welfare Conference.

Suit To Recover Estate Planned

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Trial of a suit to recover one-third of the estate of the late A. J. Boyle was scheduled to get under way at a special term of Jefferson County Circuit Court here today.

Mrs. Louise M. Boyle, Baltimore, first wife of the former owner of Charles Town race track, contends Boyle deserted her in 1927 and never obtained a legal divorce.

She named Mrs. Helene Boyle, second spouse of the millionaire horseman, as defendant in the suit. Mrs. Helene Boyle is executrix of Boyle's $4,879,533 estate.

Hearing Opens

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Public Service Commission was scheduled to today hear an application by Elkins for authority to build a $95,000 sewage disposal system in line with Water Commission directives to halt pollution of the Tygart River.

To Elect Officers

KEYSER—The annual business meeting of the Burlington Rural United Church Women will be held Monday in Lone Star EUB Church at 7:30 p. m. Officers will be elected for the coming church year.

Keyser Area Rotary Club Program Held

KEYSER—Keyser's newest charity organization, United Charities, Inc., an affiliate of the County United Fund, this year has taken over the distribution of Christmas baskets to the needy of the Keyser area, President Harland Ridder said. In previous years the City of Keyser has supervised the distribution of baskets.

Letters have already been mailed to local fraternal, civic, service and veterans' organizations, as well as churches, notifying them of the plans of United Charities. However, Ridder said, it would be well if organizations not contacted, as well as individuals, notify him or William F. Miller if they have a family in mind that deserves a basket.

Ridder urged that groups planning to distribute baskets themselves notify him or Miller of the names of the recipients in order to avoid duplication. United Charities has opened an office on the first floor of the Moose building on East Street.

Communities that come under the scope of United Charities include Keyser, Elk Garden, Ridgeley, Short Gap, Wiley Ford and Burlington.

Ridder said that the names of families recommended to receive baskets should be submitted by December 10. Information should include the name, address and number in the family, and the ages and sex of any children.

Psychiatrists Examine Slayer Of W. Va. Woman

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A spokesman for Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said today a report on the psychiatric examination of condemned slayer Elmer David Bruner is expected "in a few days."

It was disclosed Wednesday that the governor had requested that three psychiatrists be appointed to interview the 41-year-old Huntington man.

Bruner is sentenced to die in the electric chair at the Moundsville Penitentiary Dec. 12. He was convicted for the bludgeon slaying 18 months ago of socially prominent Mrs. Ruby Miller, 58, in her Huntington home.

The West Virginia Supreme Court refused Bruner's appeal Wednesday for a stay of execution on grounds that it lacked jurisdiction. Earlier this week, it had turned down his petition for a writ of habeas corpus after previously denying an appeal from his first-degree murder conviction.

The ex-convict and odd-job man had asked the stay of execution to allow for an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court from the refusal of the habeas corpus petition.

Sale Of Common Stock Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The District of Columbia Transit System has applied for authority to sell company stock to the public. O. Ray Chalk, president of the firm, asked the Public Utilities Commission yesterday to permit such sales. It marked the first move by Chalk to open the stock to the public since he began operating Washington's streetcar and bus lines 27 months ago.

He proposed the splitting of 5,000 outstanding shares now owned by his Trans-Caribbean Airways at an unusual 1,000-to-one ratio. This would increase the number of shares outstanding to five million and decrease the par value per share from $100 to 10 cents.

Chalk declined to say how many shares would be offered the public.

'Skinflint' Businessmen Draw Ire Of W. Va. Auditor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A vow to protect West Virginia state employees from alleged shady practices by certain "skinflint" businessmen was made today by Auditor Edgar B. Sims.

The auditor was disturbed, to put it mildly, over a garnishee submitted for collection against a State Road Commission employee by a Lincoln County Justice of the peace.

Slins, who Tuesday won a scrap with Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and other state officials over his controversial "late payday" policy when he was upheld by the State Supreme Court, refused to honor the garnishee.

He said the judgment filed on behalf of a Charleston jewelry store, amounted to $25. But added to it was $13.75 in interest, $6.75 in court costs and a $1.50 garnishee filing fee.

The auditor released a letter to the magistrate in which he said first that he lacked jurisdiction because the state employee had been a long-time resident of Charleston.

Sims also said the jeweler has "no legal right to charge interest on an open account," and that the filing fee should have been $1 instead of $1.50.

In the letter to the JP, Sims said it was his intention to "defend state employees, whoever they are, against skinflints."

He added that on the opening day of the kill in District 2, composed of eight counties east of the Alleghenies, totalled 2,238.

With no reports from the New Creek or Headsville stations here, Tuesday's kill by checking stations, Keyser, 30; Fort Ashby, 50; Rudegey, 13; Burlington, 38; and Elk Garden, 12.

Frostburg Elks Memorial Service Scheduled Sunday

Union Church Dedication Set At Burlington

BURLINGTON — Bishop Lloyd C. Wickie will speak at dedication service for the new educational building of Burlington Union Church Sunday. He is resident bishop of the Pittsburgh area of the Methodist Church.

Plans for the services have been announced by the pastors, Rev. Paul Iverson and Rev. Allen Partish.

Services are to be held at 3 p.m. with Bishop Wickie preaching. Assisting will be Dr. Vernon C. Culright, district superintendent of the Moorefield District of the Methodist Church; Rev. Ben Reed, retired pastor of Burlington Presbyterian Church, and the pastor.

The building program began in the early spring and was finished recently. The new addition will provide classroom space, a large assembly room, a pastor's study, restrooms and recreational and dining facilities. Serving on the building committee were C. M. Stickley, chairman, Walter Woodworth, Roy Whipp, L. A. Leatherman Jr., C. I. Roman, John S. Wilson, J. H. Bane and Garland Ebert.

Those who served on fund raising committee are C. I. Roman, chairman, R. V. Likens, R. D. Shank, Lillian Wright, Elva Bane, Olicer Bane, Clyde Bonar, Ward Haines, Lucy Mary Woodworth and R. T. Stickley Sr.

High School Senior Feted

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Martinsburg High School senior has been named to represent West Virginia in the Junior Miss America Pageant starting next March 7 at Mobile, Ala.

She is Linda Logelschatz, a tall blonde, a cheer leader at the high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Kogelschatz and was named by West Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce President Frank Fischer.

West Virginia's representative in the 1958 contest, Phyllis Whitenack of Bluefield, won the national Junior Miss America title.

The competition is limited to girls 17 years old and under, with the first-place winner receiving a $5,000 scholarship to any accredited college in the country. The second and third-place receive scholarships of $3,000 and $1,000, respectively.

Miss Whitenack's victory in the first annual national competition last Spring also meant she would reign as queen of the Senior Bowl football game at Mobile later this month.

New Route Approved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The Public Service Commission Thursday authorized Capitol Transit Inc., Charleston, to begin bus service over a 36-mile line from Cabin Creek to Powellton, Fayette County, effective Friday.

Bonnie Kooken Selected DAR Good Citizen'

WESTERNPORT — Frostburg Lodge 470, BPO Elks, will hold its annual memorial service Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the Elks Home. The ritual will be conducted by lodge officers and the eulogy will be delivered by Edward J. Ryan. Principal speaker for the evening will be Arthur B. Gibson, Cumberland.

The committee in charge of arranging the program is composed of Upton B. F. Edwards, chairman, C. F. Reapham, John Dillon, Arthur Kirby and E. Burnett Van Fossen and the Madrigal Singers of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Deceased members who will be honored are William J. Edwards, charter member, Samuel F. Walker, James E. Kenny, Milton W. Race, Edward L. Minnick, Benny Epstein and Moses Bear.

Election Set

Calanthe Temple 3, Pythian Sisters, will meet tomorrow at 6 p.m. in Junior Order Hall for a Christmas party, after which a meeting will be held at 7:30 with the nomination and election of officers.

A ceremony and the draping of the charter will be held in honor of the late Nellie Gunnell. Cleo Henry, most excellent chief, will preside.

Driving Hazardous

Lloyd Truly, chief of police, pointed out this morning that with snow and sleet the past week, driving on city streets has been made hazardous. He urged motorists to use extreme care in reducing speed that will be true with the condition of the streets.

He asked that they be especially careful in school zones and at times that school is letting out.

During the winter months parking is prohibited on Water Street, Broadway and Main Street between midnight and 8 a.m. following a snow storm. This ordinance, he said, permits snow plows to open up streets and not be bothered with parked cars.

The three streets involved are the main arteries of Frostburg.

Alarms Answered

City firemen answered six fire alarms during the month of November, according to Fire Chief Paul Haberlein.

Each fire was of a different type. Included were a grass fire, car, truck, tree, flue, and wood and debris. No amount of damage was available. A total of 149 fires were answered the alarms with an average of 24 for each fire.

Brief Mention

The weekly public social for the benefit of St. Michael's church will be held in the parish hall tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lois Jackson and Mrs. Margaret Hanson, public health nurses at the Frostburg Health Center announced that well baby clinics will be held December 11 and 18 due to the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Edward Humphries, Lonaconing, was admitted to Miners Hospital as a medical patient.

Israel Charges Attack By Syria

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel charged today that Syria turned its heavy weapons on half a dozen border settlements in the Hulch Valley Wednesday, touching off the heaviest artillery duel since the 1948-1949 Palestine war.

In Damascus, a Syrian army spokesman blamed Israel for the "surprise aggression." He said the Syrian bombardment, which started "several fires," was ordered in retaliation for an Israeli attack.

The only reported casualty was an Israeli shepherd killed in the burst of small-arms fire that heralded the heavy attack.

George Washington was the first and President Eisenhower the 17th U. S. President to visit Newport, R. I.

Death Ruled Suicide

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio (UPI) — Louis Krueck, 83, was found dead in the kitchen of his home here Wednesday, and Belmont County Coroner W. J. Shepherd ruled he took his own life by firing a bullet into his head. Krueck's housekeeper, who found the body, told authorities he had previously threatened to shoot himself.

Gulf Prices High

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — The highest prices in seven years were received by West Virginia farmers for calves marketed at 11 regional sales, it was reported today. The West Virginia University Agricultural Extension service said 6,643 feeder calves were sold for an average of about $8.40 more per hundredweight than 1957.

WINS ACHIEVEMENT AWARD — A West Virginia student is one of 12 young men and women named as achievement awards winners to a committee of judges who will select the "Good Citizen of Allegany County." A candidate for an academic diploma, she previously won the Tri-Towns "Voice of Democracy" speech trophy and was one of the 12 Maryland State semi-finalists in the contest.

She won second place in the state essay contest on "Our Heritage Democracy," sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Miss Kooken is past treasurer of the Science Club, vice president of the Student Council, Student Council representative for four years and secretary of the Allegany County Sportsmanship Commission.

She is an active member of the senior band, senior chorus, select chorus, Tri-Hi-Y, and has served as co-advertising manager of the school yearbook during her junior and senior years.

As a member of the Piedmont Presbyterian Church, she has served as president of the Youth Fellowship for two consecutive terms, and was a member of the Winchester Presbyterian Youth Council during her junior year.

In Girl Scouting she has received the Curved Bar, highest award in intermediate scouting, and the Five-Point Star, highest award in senior scouting.

Miss Kooken plans to enter Center College, a Presbyterian school in Kentucky, where she will study in the field of social work and Christian education.

The contestant chosen for the state title will be introduced personally at the Daughters of the American Revolution conference in the spring and will be presented with $100 United States Savings Bond.

Deer Season Causes Blood Donor Let-Up

WESTERNPORT. -- Seventy-two pints of blood were donated Tuesday when the Johnston Red Cross bloodmobile unit visited the Tri-Towns. It was stationed at the home of Victory Post 183, American Legion.

The blood received was 13 pints below the quota. Deer season, and many going hunting accounted for the loss, according to Mrs. Paul Cueva and Mrs. Carleton Bell, co-chairmen. Mrs. Bernadine Appel was chairman of the donor committee.

Dr. P. E. Berry, Dr. William Lesh, and Dr. James H. Wolverton, Jr., were the doctors in charge. Eighty-two appeared and there were 10 rejects. Persons who made their gallon donation include Rev. E. W. Wulford, Westernport; Owen Lewis, Westernport; Mrs. May Haggerty, Keyser, and Elmer J. Shaver, Piedmont. There were also four first-time donors.

Nurses assisting included Mrs. Bruce Sanborn, Mrs. Lillian Fazebaker, Mrs. Herman Roderick, Mrs. James Kelly and Mrs. Margaret Meyers.

Assisting Mrs. Appel in recruiting were Mrs. Annabelle Wilkes and Mrs. Gladys Pampino. Mrs. Benjamin Mamolen was in charge of the hostesses; Mrs. Marian Daniels, typing, and Mrs. Owen Rhodes, canteen.

Meetings Scheduled

Due to Christmas falling on Thursday this year, dinner meetings of the Tri-Towns Lions Club will be held today and Thursday, December 18, at 6:30 p. m. in the social rooms of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.

Four hundred and 90 fruit cakes have been sold by members of the club.

At a meeting of the board of directors in the home of Rex Chilcote, Paxton Street, Piedmont, donations were made to the Allegany-Garrett County and Mineral County Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sales.

The annual sale of the club's Christmas trees will start Saturday, December 13, on the grounds of the Piedmont swimming pool. Money realized from the sale of the trees is used for the sight conservation program.

Missionary To Peru, Chile Will Discuss Work Tonight In Midlothian Assembly Of God Church

FROSTBURG -- David T. Scott, member of the Assemblies of God missionary to Peru and Chile, will speak at a missionary service to be held at 7:30 in Trinity Assembly on December 10. The first six months were spent in language study. For five years, Scott served as superintendent of the Assemblies of God. He also served as God work in these countries. Scott first went to Peru as counselor of the Christ Ambassadors under appointment of the Peru Assemblies of the Foreign Missions Department.

While in Peru, Scott and his family were in the Cuzco earthquake, went through an Indian uprising and were imprisoned for a short time as a result of revival meetings being held there. In 1957 Scott went to Chile where he served as president of the Chile Bible Institute at Santiago for one year. At the conclusion of his furlough period, Scott plans to return to College, has returned after attending the annual meeting of the National Council for Geographic Education, which was held in New York City recently.

Dean Diehl stated that almost every state was represented at the convention, as well as delegations from other countries. The convention theme for this 40th year was "Widening the Horizons Through Geographic Education." Features included geography, old trips in the New York City area, exhibits, reports on geographic education around the world, tools and techniques for office is being remodeled. A new teaching world regions, preparation for covering has been laid by the Tri-Towns Floor Covering Company and the walls have been painted by James E. Shockley, 183, American Legion.

The blood received was 13 pints below the quota. Deer season, and many going hunting accounted for the loss, according to Mrs. Paul Cueva and Mrs. Carleton Bell, co-chairmen. Mrs. Bernadine Appel was chairman of the donor committee.

State Starts New Program For Parolees

BALTIMORE (AP)—About one fourth of the men paroled from Maryland prisons during November were prisoners previously considered unsatisfactory risks.

The men, numbering 25 among the month's 93 parolees, were released under a program approved by the State Board of Public Works last September aimed at relieving overcrowding in State institutions.

The 25 were serving terms of no more than two years at the House of Correction and the Reformatory for Males. They were considered unfit for parole previously because of alcoholism or because they had no job prospects.

The Board of Parole and Probation has added a number of new parole officers since the new program was inaugurated and each officer's case load will be reduced to permit closer supervision.

To be included in the experimental program later are prisoners with terms of less than a year who have served more than half of their time.

New Heart Operation May Cure Angina Pectoris

NEW YORK (UPI)—A brand caused disabling chest pains when new heart operation points to the victim exerts himself and gets enough blood to meet the inward a surgical solution for an thus makes countless cardiac demands being made upon it. You have angina pectoris, a disease which cripples.

But what causes these passing failures in blood supply to the muscle is a matter for scientific argument. Some authorities list angina pectoris as a psychosomatic disease.

The new operation is based on the premise that in the severe form of the disease one or more of the three major branches of the main heart artery has been plugged entirely by the fatty substances which cause "hardening" of the arteries.

Three professors of the University of California Medical School, Los Angeles, devised an operation to correct such a situation (if it existed) by the most direct means possible. The surgeon exposes the heart, looks at and feels the arterial branches where they connect with the main heart artery, and removes the plug if one is found.

They have tried the operation on five men whose angina pectoris had made them cripples. In all five they found arterial plugs and removed them. One died of surgical complications. The other four have been greatly improved and one even has a part-time job.

In reporting to the New England Journal of Medicine, Dr. William P. Longmire Jr., professor of surgery, Dr. Jack A. Cannon, associate professor, and Dr. Albert A. Kattus, associate professor of cardiology, made no claim for the operation beyond their proof that it is "technically feasible to re-establish blood flow in previously obstructed major coronary arteries."

Before any one can say for sure that it is a solution for angina pectoris, the operation will have to be performed on a much larger number of patients and the benefits will have to be proven to be lasting. Their four surviving patients are only a year or less away from their operations.

None of the several operations now used to increase blood flow to the heart muscle, is good enough to have been generally accepted by surgeons, they pointed out. It seemed to them that the best procedure would be to remove any obstructions from the heart arteries directly. This is done routinely in blocked arteries (the main heart artery, and which are near the surface. Then move any obstructing core.

Economic Development Unit Planned

BALTIMORE (AP)—A plan to be ed by the governor, the executive, who wanted his agency to create an independent economic powers of the commission, salaried to handle the job of attracting new industry to Maryland.

The proposal, in effect, overruled Director I. Alvin Pasarew of the State Planning Commission of the independent agency.

The plan, which calls for a budget in the $100,000 to $250,000 range, was proposed by a joint legislative committee.

The group of legislators and outside advisors headed by Del. Ernest A. Loveless, Jr. (D-Prince Georges) agreed on the general outlines of the proposed agency. Still to be determined before the General Assembly convenes in January are such details as the number of members to be appointed.

TO SPEAK HERE.—Mrs. Nancy Seenz, a Christian Church missionary to Puerto Rico, will speak Sunday morning at the First annual Woman's Day service at First Christian Church. She, and her husband, Michael Seenz, were commissioned as missionaries in 1954 by the United Christian Missionary Society.

SMOKE FELLS YOUNGSTERS

BALTIMORE (AP)—A city fireman battered down a locked door in a burning rowhouse in Northeast Baltimore yesterday and rescued three unconscious children.

The children, aged 2, 3 and 4, were in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital after emergency treatment for smoke inhalation.

Five other children, also injured in the fire, were treated at the hospital and released.

The eight youngsters were from two Negro families who lived in adjoining homes.

The blaze burned out two floors of the three-story brick rowhouse, where five of the injured children lived.

why not in heart arteries? They invented two surgical tools with which to open arterial branches at their junctures with done routinely in blocked arteries (the main heart artery, and which are near the surface. Then move any obstructing core.

Duncan Paces '58 AP's All-America

Breedlove Honorable Mention

By TED SMITH
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Randy Duncan of Iowa, the 1958 No. 1 draft choice of professional football, heads the backfield of The Associated Press All-America team announced today.

Teamed with him are Pete Dawkins of Army's undefeated team; Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, the national champions; and Bill Austin of Rutgers, who lifted into prominence again the historic school where football was born.

First team ends are James Houston of Ohio State and Buddy Dial of Rice. At tackle are Brock Strom, the key man of the surprising Air Force Academy, and Ted Bates of Oregon State. Zeke Smith of Auburn and George Delerich of Vanderbilt are the guards. Bob Harrison of Oklahoma is at center.

Doran Regional Boards

The Associated Press All-America is selected on the basis of the recommendations of 12 regional boards composed of newspapermen and newscasters, and takes into account the full season's play through games of Nov. 29.

The second team is composed of Carroll Dale of Virginia Tech and Monte Slicker of Notre Dame at end; Ron Luciano of Syracuse and Don Floyd of Texas Christian at tackle; Jerry Stalcup of Wisconsin and John Huizing of Pitt at guard; Jackie Burkett of Auburn at center; and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist, Dick Bass of the College of the Pacific, Bob Anderson of Army, and Bob White of Ohio State in the backfield.

The strength of the Southeastern Conference is reflected in three first team selections: The East, Midwest, and Southwest each have two, the Rocky Mountain region one and the Far West one.

The backfield is versatile. Duncan, who led the Big Ten in passing with 68 completions in 111 tries for 898 yards and a .595 percentage, is ended by his coach, Forrest Evashevski. "By far the best passer I have ever coached," He was drafted by the Green Bay Packers.

Dawkins, who could not win a letter at Army in his sophomore year, developed into the leader of a great team. He is the first captain of cadets, president of his class, and ranks seventh in his class in scholarship. Stricken by polio in the seventh grade, he built himself into an athlete by using weights.

Austin—English Major

Austin, an English major at Rutgers, made 747 yards on 145 carries, completed 22 of 44 passes for 8 touchdowns and 284 yards, passed for 5 conversions in 6 tries, punted 14 times for an average of 35 yards, and scored 106 points on 16 touchdowns and five conversions.

Cannon, a junior, was the constant threat of LSU's powerful offense. Despite his 200 pounds, he has run the 100 in :09.5, and scored 11 touchdowns and 8 conversions for a total of 74 points. He made 600 yards rushing in 115 attempts for a 6-yard average.

Houston, another junior on a team that has eight seniors, is called the greatest end in Ohio State history. Captain elect for 1959, he led his team in playing time with 505 minutes out of a possible 540.

Dial, always an excellent receiver, became a standout defensive player at Rice. Over his entire college career he caught 60 passes for 1,205 yards and scored 13 touchdowns.

Strom AFA Bulwark

Strom at tackle is the bulwark of a team that almost literally came from outer space to go through the season undefeated and lead in the Cotton Bowl.

Bates of Oregon State, the other tackle, is a 218-pounder described by Coach Tommy Prothro as "extremely quick with great striking power."

Along with Cannon and Houston, Roger Duane (Zeke) Smith is a junior, a 210-pounder at guard who is one of the chief reasons Auburn went through the season with only the blemish of a tie against its record.

George Delerich of Vanderbilt, the other first team guard, shone even in defeat. He holds the school's high hurdles record and can block as viciously as he tackles.

Oklahoma's center, Bob Harrison, drew only praise from Coach Bud Wilkinson who termed him one of the greatest. He is a farm boy from Stamford, Texas.

Johnson Wants Shot At Moore

CHICAGO (UPI) — Harold Johnson, one of the top light heavyweights, was hopeful and apologetic in the same breath today after a unanimous win over Howard King in his first bout in eight months.

"I know I didn't look good," he said, "but it was the long layoff, and if I can get a shot at Archie Moore, I'll take the chance I can get ready for him."

King was a good fighter. Johnson, who scored his 50th win against 8 losses, said, "and I'm not just saying that because I beat him. But he's a good puncher and a hard man to fight. He punches from close in, and you can't take a chance with him."

Johnson lost only one round on the cards of the two judges, Jim McManus, who scored 49-44 for him, and Frank Clarke, who scored 49-43. Both referee Walter Brightmore and United Press International gave King two rounds and Johnson a 48-43 margin.

Last-Second Shot Dumps Terp Cagers In Lidlifter

By GORDON BEARD

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — North Carolina State has reaped early dividends from Lou Puccillo's summertime practice with an arching set shot.

The 5-foot-9 senior from Philadelphia looped a one-hander from the right corner last night with two seconds remaining to give State a pulsating 55-53 basketball victory over Maryland in an Atlantic Coast Conference thriller.

When Puccillo heard we were going to play Kansas and Kansas State this season," Coach Everett Case said after the game, "he said he would practice the high arch so he could shoot over the heads of the tall players out there."

Clutch Second Half

Under close policing by Maryland's Jerry Bechtle, Puccillo made only two baskets in the first half. But he added six more field goals in the second half—four in the clutch final 10 minutes—and nine free throws.

State Nips Terps

North Carolina State nipped Maryland, 55-53. North Carolina opened its season with an 83-76 victory over Clemson, Bob Ferry's 33 points led St. Louis to a 75-64 triumph over South Dakota State, and Bradley galloped to an 86-54 victory over New Mexico A&M.

In other major games, Georgia turned back Florida, 66-63; Jeff Cohen's hook shot in the second overtime period helped William & Mary edge Washington and Lee, 63-60; South Carolina scored an easy 71-54 victory over Hartford, Connecticut; ripped American International, 76-63; Canisius spanked Buffalo Teachers, 95-80; Texas Tech turned back Oklahoma, 73-64; Dartmouth's defending Ivy League champions opened with an 82-84 victory over Vermont.

HONORABLE MENTION

(Southern District)
End—Al Goldstein, North Carolina; Ray Massey, Clemson; John Schroeder, North Carolina.

Tackles—Phil Blazer, North Carolina; Ed Pitts, South Carolina; Fred Cole, Clemson; John Clegg, Clemson; Ed French, Washington.

Guards—Mike Mofett, Duke; Rod Breitmore, Maryland; Bill Henkle, North Carolina State; Fred Swearingen, North Carolina; George Trifunovic, Bob Grun, George Washington.

Centers—Bill Thomas, Clemson; Ron Koen, North Carolina; Milan Morelovich, Navy.

Backs—Jack Cummings, Wade Smith and Tom Klocak, North Carolina; Jim McManus, Wake Forest; Harvey White, Clemson; Ulimo Randi, Virginia; Joe Franchini, Joe Malalavage and Joe Bellino, Navy.

U. S. Sweeps First Round

MELBOURNE (AP) — Four members of the United States Davis Cup team swept into the second round of the Victorian Tennis Championships today without the loss of a set.

Eighteen-year-old Earl Buchholz, Jr., of St. Louis, was the most impressive of the youthful Yankee squad as he whipped past Bert Kearney of Australia in the Kookaburra court match 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, played loosely but won over Dave Hallam of Melbourne 6-2, 6-4, 6-3. Peruvian Alex Olmedo of Los Angeles defeated John Stephens, Australia, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3, and blond Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., crushed Jim Reid, Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Top seeded Ashley Cooper, hoping to add the Victorian to his long list of the year's titles, smashed fellow Australian Jimmy Moon in 25 minutes without losing a game, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0.

His Australian Davis Cup mates were almost equally effective. Mal Anderson trounced M. J. King, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1. Neale Fraser topped Ron Pearson, Australia, 6-1, 6-2.

Hal Anderson, Harvard guard, is majoring in geology and does some mountain climbing in the summer.

You won't see many better opening games," Millikan said. A screaming crowd of 10,800 seemed to agree.

Maryland, sixth-ranked nationally last year, held a 10-point lead midway of the first half but led only by five at intermission. A three-point cluster by Bob McGilivray put State ahead for the first time, 41-40.

Gene Danko was high for Maryland with 14.

In other games last night, North Carolina finished strong to whip Clemson 63-57 and South Carolina rolled over Wofford 71-54.

The only action tonight has Virginia Tech.

Hawkins, Hennon Give Early Warning For Point Honors

By United Press International

Tom Hawkins of Notre Dame and Don Hennon, Pittsburgh's "mighty mite," issued an early warning today that they are ready to give Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati a tussle for the college basketball scoring championship this season.

Hawkins became the greatest scorer in Notre Dame history Wednesday night with a 39-point effort that paced the third-ranked Irish to a run-away 87-55 victory over Bellarmine while Hennon netted 41 points as Pitt edged Ohio State, 72-70.

Hawkins tops record.

Hawkins' scoring spree in Notre Dame's opening game boosted his overall total to 1,345 points, wiping out the old Irish record of 1,314 points set by Jack Stevens in 1955. The 6-foot-7 forward dropped in 16 field goals and seven of nine free throws as Notre Dame opened a 44-23 halftime lead and then coasted the rest of the way.

Hennon, an All-American last season although he stands only 5 feet, 9 inches, dropped in two key baskets early in the second half to wipe out a 50-47 Ohio State lead. Pittsburgh never trailed thereafter as Hennon continued his superlative scoring, winding up with 18 field goals and nine free throws.

State nips Terps.

North Carolina State nipped Maryland, 55-53. North Carolina opened its season with an 83-76 victory over Clemson, Bob Ferry's 33 points led St. Louis to a 75-64 triumph over South Dakota State, and Bradley galloped to an 86-54 victory over New Mexico A&M.

LaSalle Five Wins Opener, Beats Eagles

LaSalle High's "green" Green Wave basketball team earned its first victory last night, 71-68, over Fort Ashby on the Eagles' court.

Coach George Geatz's cagers, with a brand new lineup from last year's championship quint, staged a 31-point spurt in the second quarter to come from behind and then managed to hold off the rest of the second half for the three-point triumph.

Carroll Wilt and Mike Firlie shared scoring honors for the Explorers with Wilt slammimg home eight buckets and a foul toss for 17 markers while Firlie came through with eight goals and 16 counters.

However, Glenn Pyles, one of the two holdovers from the Eagles' strong 1957-58 club, grabbed point honors by caging a dozen goals and six free throws for 30 tallies.

The losers stayed close throughout with 24 of 34 penalty pitches while being outscored from the field, 33 goals to 22. The Fort Ashby JVs gave the host school a split by trimming the LaSalle junior varsity, 49-24, in the preliminary.

Air Of Caution Prevails Over Camp Of Akins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sudden air of caution prevailed over the camp of world welterweight champion Virgil Akins today for his title defense against Don Jordan of Los Angeles Friday night.

For days the 30-year-old Akins had been saying he would flatten his 24-year-old challenger for the first time in the Californian's career. He named the round — the third. Later he said "within five rounds."

But as he ended his long grind of training, Akins abruptly shifted all pre-fight predictions to his manager and trainer.

The two, pilot Bernie Glickman and trainer Bill Barrell, just as quickly said they entertain no notion of a quick end to the nationally televised scrap at the Olympic Auditorium.

Akins clung to an attitude of quiet confidence.

"I know Akins is a good puncher, but I've never been stopped before. And I've fought some good punchers like Joe Muccie, Jimmy Carter, Art Aragon and others."

"I'm sure I can outbox him and win the title."

The fight goes on at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

Webb Selected Month's Fighter

NEW YORK (AP) — Spider Webb's knockout victory over Jocy Giardello today earned the Chicago middleweight contender "Fighter of the Month" honors in Ring magazine's latest monthly ratings.

In addition, the slick boxer-puncher was hoisted from fifth to third in the rankings of the 150-pound division. Webb stopped Giardello in the seventh round at San Francisco Nov. 19. Giardello, of Philadelphia, was dropped from third to fifth.

Rod Breedlove Slips To Second All ACC Team

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina placed four players on the all-Atlantic Coast Conference football team announced today by the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Assn.

South Carolina, Duke and North Carolina each had two players on the team, which was selected by 68 newspapers, radio, television and college publicity men in the ACC area.

South Carolina halfback Alex Hawkins polled the most votes, receiving 325 points out of a possible 340. Other backfield choices were Duke's Wray Carlton, North Carolina's Jack Cummings and South Carolina's John Saunders.

Points were counted on the basis of five for a first team vote and three for a second team vote.

Phil Blazer, North Carolina tackle, and Duke guard Mike McGee led the all-conference line voting. Blazer receiving 318 points and McGee 316.

Blazer and Carlton are the only repeaters from last year's first team. Harvey White of Clemson and Rodney Breedlove of Maryland, who made the first team last year as sophomores, failed to repeat but were second team selections.

Completing the first team line are ends Al Goldstein of North Carolina and Bob Pepe of N. C. State, tackle Jim Padgett of Clemson, guard Bill Rieck of N. C. State, and center Ronnie Koen of North Carolina.

Maryland tackle Fred Cole joined teammate Breedlove on the second team.

Steelers Certain Of Beating Skins

PITTSBURGH, (UPI) — Coach Buddy Parker, who noticed the effective way the Washington Redskins bottled up Cleveland Browns fullback Jimmy Brown last Sunday, concentrated on blocking in Steeler workouts at Pitt Stadium today.

Parker moved the drills today and Friday to the tarpaulin-covered hilltop arena because the usual South Park site still was bogged with slush.

The Steelers were confident Buddy Layne's passing and the running of Tom Tracy and Co. would bring the second victory of the campaign over the Skins Sunday if the Steeler jumbos were sharp in cutting down the Washington defenders.

Bob Pettit Takes Lead In Scoring

By United Press International

Bob Pettit's patience and accuracy has finally rewarded him with the National Basketball Association scoring lead.

Pettit poured in 34 points against Boston Wednesday night to help the St. Louis Hawks to a 118-110 verdict and elevate him to the top rung in scoring with 535 points. Idle Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis has 30 less.

Cincinnati spoiled New York's bid to break a first place tie with Boston in the Eastern Division by edging the Knicks, 110-108, on a pair of baskets by Vern Hatton in the final minute.

DETROIT (AP) — George Wilson, who runs a football team with the same daring and aggressiveness that he showed during his playing days, will get a chance to rebuild the Detroit Lions' football fortunes.

The ex-Chicago Bear great, whose rookied empire of 1957 crumbled in the early weeks of the current campaign, signed another one-year contract Wednesday.

This year, with two games remaining, the Lions have a 4-5 record.

"I'm sure I can outbox him and win the title."

The fight goes on at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

Now is the time to buy for Christmas. All sizes in the latest styles, colors and fabrics, beautifully tailored to meet his individual needs.

Blair Denies Story He Will Quit Army

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Earl (Red) Blaik, football coach at the U. S. Military Academy for 18 years, says a report he may resign to become a business executive is without basis.

The New York Journal-American said Wednesday a "reported in-harmonious situation" which has developed at West Point might lead to Blaik's resignation.

Game Changed

A change has been made in the Mt. Savage High School basketball schedule, according to coach Johnny Thomas. The Indians will meet Hyndman at Mt. Savage on Wednesday, December 10, instead of Tuesday, December 9, because of the inability to get officials for the original date.

Giants Seen Pulling Coup Against Phils

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Manager Bill Rigney labelled Jack Sanford "the pitcher we wanted" today after the San Francisco Giants pulled off the biggest deal of the current baseball meetings by obtaining the strong-armed right-hander from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Rigney refused to claim a personal San Francisco, but National League rivals already were comparing the deal to the "coup" the Giants pulled in 1954 when they acquired Johnny Antonelli from the Braves. Antonelli went to win 21 games that season and held the Giants to a world championship.

"We needed a strong-armed right-hander and we think this is the guy," said the bearing Rigney, "in our estimation, he's one of the best in the league."

"There's a good chance we'll make still another deal," Rigney added, and while he declined to name names informed sources told UPI the Giants were pressing their bids for either Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Redlegs or Don Blasingame of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Sanford, National League Rookie of the Year in 1957 when he compiled a 19-8 record and led the circuit with 183 strikeouts, was obtained in a deal which sent pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas to the last-place Phillies. It was the first major deal by a National League club at the meetings and undeniably strengthened the Giants as a potential pennant threat. At the same time, the Phillies obtained the top-line pitcher and desperately-needed catching help.

Sanford had only a 10-13 record and a 4.40 earned run average in 1958 compared to his brilliant rookie campaign but still is regarded as one of the circuit's top pitchers.

Ed Merrick Picked Dixie Coach Of Year

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The University of Richmond's Ed Merrick has been named Southern Conference "coach of the year," the first time the award has gone to the coach of a second division team.

Merrick, whose Spiders were tagged for dead last in the league but surprised by knocking off three league teams, was the solid choice of members of the Southern Conference Sports Writers Association in the 11th annual balloting.

Merrick refused to claim a personal San Francisco, but National League rivals already were comparing the deal to the "coup" the Giants pulled in 1954 when they acquired Johnny Antonelli from the Braves. Antonelli went to win 21 games that season and held the Giants to a world championship.

'Ozzie, Harriet' Show Called Pure Rubbish

By WILLIAM EWALD

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Every time I look in on ABC-TV's "Ozzie and Harriet" — and Wednesday night was one of those times — the show strikes me as an incredible piece of twaddle.

It is a half-hour which pries, puerility upon puerility. It is pure rubbish, almost artfully remote from life.

Wednesday night's episode was to about par for the series. It had Raye will make, one of her something or other to do with a frequent TV appearances this season, and was quite close on the Jan. 5 ABC-TV "Patti to a script Lucy and Desi once used. With one difference: The Torn, James Gregory and Henry Lucy-Desi effort was funny.

"Ozzie and Harriet" is the kind of typical - American - life show where the men are comic dunderheads and their wives domineering connivers. In a series like this, the women never take their husbands seriously, treating them like peculiarly retarded fauna. As a matter of fact, the children in the family usually are treated with more deference than their father.

I prefer to think that a series like "Ozzie and Harriet" is not so much a reflection of life, as it is a reflection of the trifling minds that turn out this sort of friable week after week for viewers' consumption.

Short Shots: CBS-TV's "U. S. Steel Hour" booked in a skill cast — Ed Begley, Betsy Palmer, Bramwell Fletcher and Arthur Hill — Wednesday night, but failed to book in a play of any distinction. Its offering, "The Enemies," was a dudger.

Sessue Hayakawa, who used to move around in a gold-plated Pierce-Arrow in his earlier and palmer days, got on board NBC-TV's "Wagon Train" Wednesday night and turned in a nice performance in a rather unexciting vehicle. There was one dandy scene in which Hayakawa committed suicide with accompanying grunts that must have wowed the kiddies.

The Channel Swimmers: ABC-TV's "Cheyenne," "Wyatt Earp" and "The Rifleman" dominated the Tuesday night lineup in the Tren- dex ratings. Peter Lind Hayes is shifting his CBS radio show to ABC radio in January.

Dana Wynter has signed in for Henry James "Wings" of the one for a new roof.

County Building Breakdown Noted

The Allegany County Assessing Department issued 29 building permits last month for construction estimated to cost $138,800.

Construction authorized by the 29 November building permits approved work in 16 of the county's election districts. District 5 in the North End suburban area was the month's leader with four permits.

There was a three-way tie for second place with three permits each for Districts 6, West Side suburban; 7, Cresaptown, and 20, LaVale. Four districts followed with two permits each. They were Districts 8, Westernport; 13, Mt. Savage; 16, North Branch, and 21, Gross.

Single November permits were issued for Districts 3, Flintstone; 11, Frostburg; 19, Border Shanty; 20, Ellerslie - Corryville; 24, Eckhart; 25, Lonaconing; 30, Elkhorn; 31, McConie.

Twelve of the 29 November permits were for construction of new dwellings. There were five others for additions to dwellings. Other permits included three for garages, one for a group of cabins, one for a storage, one for a chicken house and shed, one for an addition to a church rectory, one for a garage and workshop, one for a dwelling and storage shed, one for a foundation, another for a service station and one for a new roof.

STILL GOING STRONG — Tim McCoy, who served with the Army among the Indians in western America before going to Hollywood in 1922, demonstrates how he can still handle a six-shooter. Tim, who is 67, says he knows he could do pictures again, but also knows he could never convince the producers of that. So I've found another field for myself — the circus.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, December 5, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Ask for assistance where reasonable, but also lend personally to those things that are essential to YOUR job. Mainly, a good attitude in all activities. Day has advantages.

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus)—And all illusions will brighten, respond to an eager, enthusiastic YOU. If you start with obligations or doubts, you will find the actualities clear outside. Watch "the line" details.

MAY 21 to JUNE 20 (Gemini)—Speed is fine. If you are careful and don't overlook vital small matters or contingencies. Make time for study and analysis. You are in your element.

JUNE 21 to JULY 20 (Cancer)—Be mindful of your remarks, how you make them, and their substance. Also how you take others' words. Often misunderstandings occur; be needless, aim for harmony, but maintain principles.

JULY 21 to AUGUST 20 (Leo)—With consistent effort and alertness in attitude, you gentle folks should make satisfying progress now. A good period in which to develop latent talents.

AUGUST 21 to SEPTEMBER 20 (Virgo)—Business executives, office workers, mechanics, teachers, doctors, lawyers. Be especially ambitious now, and go all out in trying for what you want.

SEPTEMBER 21 to OCTOBER 20 (Libra)—"You cannot keep a good man down"; might well have been said originally about a Libran. Still, your efforts to keep him down will not be difficult. A new plan of a new idea could further your interests.

OCTOBER 21 to NOVEMBER 20 (Scorpio)—Study all situations and conditions carefully now. Make no snap judgments, work for the truth of all. Emphasize your good judgment and longevity.

NOVEMBER 21 to DECEMBER 20 (Sagittarius)—Be careful how much you take on today. You may have a tendency to overdo it. A little with contentment is, and makes, great gain.

DECEMBER 21 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—Many advances in the scientific, military and economic fields are in store. You will be asked to learn more and to be in on whatever worthwhile activities are about.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—You can make appreciable gains today by starting early and using your own intuition and know-how, especially favored: writers, artists, musicians; those in the shipping and travel industries.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Note where there are flaws and quickly try to eliminate them. Harmony is important, but defense of principles is more. Act when you should, deliberating carefully first. Do not act.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—You have many varied talents and tendencies; can achieve in an able manner in a short time because you get to the heart of things promptly. You are always interested in truth, and strive for the truth of others. If you are living on the higher plane, once you achieve system, coordination and concentration, you can reach unlimited heights. Literature, sports, philosophy can be your fields. Your present fast life will not get out of hand. Birthdate of: Martin Van Buren, 8th U.S. President; George A. Custer, American Cavalry leader; Walt Disney, cartoonist, producer, (King Features, Inc.)

Bidding Makes Finesse Sure

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. The Professor's jump to four spades was a slight overbid but the Professor likes to overbid a little.

East lost no time taking his three high diamonds and continued with the queen of clubs.

The Professor won the trick, played the king and another spade and finessed dummy's jack without a moment's hesitation. When East showed out the Professor had the rest of the tricks and his game.

"Why did you take that trump finesse?" asked the student. "Isn't the play for the drop a better percentage?"

"The play for the drop is certainly superior if you have no other information," replied the professor. "But this time the finesse was almost a sure thing."

"East had dealt and passed. He is a good point-count bidder and promptly showed up with nine points in diamonds. His lead of the queen of clubs surely indicated the jack also so that brought him to 12 points. Add the queen of spades and he would hold 14."

"If East had actually passed 14 high card points I was perfectly willing to pay off to him but I sure would have been surprised."

What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. You haven't got much of a hand but you do hold four pretty good spades.

California Plans To Replant Vines

SAN FRANCISCO—(UPI)—The State of California plans to restore the vineyards which flourished a century ago around the home of Gen. Mariano Vallejo, the last Mexican military commandant of California.

The Vallejo home, Lachryma Montis, is now a state museum. It is located 35 miles north of San Francisco in the Valley of the Moon, one of California's choice table wine districts.

Aubrey Neasham, historian of the California Division of Beaches and Parks, said the division would like to replant a 25-acre tract on either side of a lane leading to the old mansion.

He said it is hoped that varieties of grape used for winemaking by the General himself can be re-established, "as well as some of the finer varieties brought to the Valley from Europe in the middle 1800's."

Neasham indicated that planting the vineyard would take place in the next several years.

Rooster Takes Ride On Axi

ATLANTA (UPI)—Ted Sampson, 12, has found the bantam rooster he was given as a pet on Thanksgiving Day. The frightened bird, possibly fearful he would go the way of the turkey, had been riding for two days on the rear axle of a neighbor's car.

WHILE I'M HERE—HOW ABOUT THAT ENCYCLOPEDIA OR MINE P. YOU THROUGH WITH IT?

YEAH—SURE—THE KIDS HAVE IT RIGHT HERE. DADN'T HAVE WHAT WE WERE LOOKIN' FOR, BUT THANKS ANYWAY...

I ALWAYS MEANT TO READ THIS RUMCAKE. HOW ABOUT LETTING ME READ IT WHEN YOU'RE THROUGH WITH IT?

HEY! LAY OFF! I JUST STARTED IT! HERE—I BETTER LOCK IT IN MY DRAWER BEFORE SOMEBODY WALKS OFF WITH IT! CAN YOU BUY ONE? I DON'T LIKE TO LEND MY BOOKS!

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Ask for assistance where reasonable, but also lend personally to those things that are essential to YOUR job. Mainly, a good attitude in all activities. Day has advantages.

APRIL 21 to MAY 20 (Taurus)—And all illusions will brighten, respond to an eager, enthusiastic YOU. If you start with obligations or doubts, you will find the actualities clear outside. Watch "the line" details.

MAY 21 to JUNE 20 (Gemini)—Speed is fine. If you are careful and don't overlook vital small matters or contingencies. Make time for study and analysis. You are in your element.

JUNE 21 to JULY 20 (Cancer)—Be mindful of your remarks, how you make them, and their substance. Also how you take others' words. Often misunderstandings occur; be needless, aim for harmony, but maintain principles.

JULY 21 to AUGUST 20 (Leo)—With consistent effort and alertness in attitude, you gentle folks should make satisfying progress now. A good period in which to develop latent talents.

AUGUST 21 to SEPTEMBER 20 (Virgo)—Business executives, office workers, mechanics, teachers, doctors, lawyers. Be especially ambitious now, and go all out in trying for what you want.

SEPTEMBER 21 to OCTOBER 20 (Libra)—"You cannot keep a good man down"; might well have been said originally about a Libran. Still, your efforts to keep him down will not be difficult. A new plan of a new idea could further your interests.

OCTOBER 21 to NOVEMBER 20 (Scorpio)—Study all situations and conditions carefully now. Make no snap judgments, work for the truth of all. Emphasize your good judgment and longevity.

NOVEMBER 21 to DECEMBER 20 (Sagittarius)—Be careful how much you take on today. You may have a tendency to overdo it. A little with contentment is, and makes, great gain.

DECEMBER 21 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—Many advances in the scientific, military and economic fields are in store. You will be asked to learn more and to be in on whatever worthwhile activities are about.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—You can make appreciable gains today by starting early and using your own intuition and know-how, especially favored: writers, artists, musicians; those in the shipping and travel industries.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Note where there are flaws and quickly try to eliminate them. Harmony is important, but defense of principles is more. Act when you should, deliberating carefully first. Do not act.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—You have many varied talents and tendencies; can achieve in an able manner in a short time because you get to the heart of things promptly. You are always interested in truth, and strive for the truth of others. If you are living on the higher plane, once you achieve system, coordination and concentration, you can reach unlimited heights. Literature, sports, philosophy can be your fields. Your present fast life will not get out of hand. Birthdate of: Martin Van Buren, 8th U.S. President; George A. Custer, American Cavalry leader; Walt Disney, cartoonist, producer, (King Features, Inc.)

Letter Notes Conservatism Not Dead

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Further evidence to support the belief that "the conservatives are not all dead" is this:

The right wing weekly newsletter, "Human Events," which is published in Washington, D. C., cast up before the November election a list of 42 Republican members of the House, all 55 years of age or younger, who were standing for re-election and who could be classed as conservative conservatives.

Their conservative tag arbitrarily was conferred because all of them in the 85th Congress had cast more than 70 per cent of their votes on controversial legislation against the recommendations of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA).

"Human Events" called the list of 42 conservative Republicans a roll of honor and reported in October that 38 of them were seeking re-election. Of those 38, four lost and 34 were re-elected, a high percentage in any circumstances, but especially so in an election generally regarded as an unrelieved catastrophe for conservative citizens and a triumph for the left wing.

Widely Scattered

The 34 winners came from 17 states, too, widely scattered to make anything like a pattern. The winners were: Rhodes, Ariz.; Teague, Jackson, Husner, Smith, Holt, Lipscomb, Wilson, Calif.; Cramer, Fla.; Budget, Idaho; Collier, Ill.; Adair, Ind.; McIntire, Maine; Bates, Mass.; Johansen, Cederberg, Mich.; Weaver, Cunningham, N.C.; Derouin, Bosch, Rispson, Miller, Pillian, N. Y.; Jonas, N.C.; Scherer, Belts, Henderson, Minn., Ohio; Alger, Tex.; Poff, Va.; Van Pelt, Laird, Byrnes, Wis.; and Thomson, Wyo.

Other and older Republican conservatives also were re-elected. "Human Events" noted, however, a peculiar significance in the re-election of the younger men, as follows:

The high proportion (99.5 per cent) of "young" conservative voters is reassuring to the Republic Party, for it runs contrary to normal expectations.

Support For Ike

"An opposition sweep usually causes the most devastating losses among the younger and newer members because they are the ones who lack the prestige and the hard core of support, however, power which comes with seniority in committees. In addition, they have not had as many years to spending projects. To override a vote requires a two-thirds vote. These 34 youngish Republican conservatives, a handful of them in the next two years.
